I am a quick learner and can understand institutional goals having focus on output and results. I understand how individual options with coordination and contribution lead to achieve targets of an institution. Overall, I am a friendly person and keeps a humble attitude towards my colleagues hence creating a positive culture and believe that if I maintain a good relationship with everyone I meet, I can achieve my targets with team consensus.

I prefer concept based teaching with real world examples plus allowing the room for two way communication and teaching at the audience level. I believe we need to educate students to stop competing with others but to rather compete with themselves so they can know their abilities and measures of their success more openly. And hence they can move in a right direction instead of leading themselves towards things like jealousy, demotivation, or obsession in anyway.
